PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Introducing our newest, best-selling acoustical ceiling baffles from our eSCAPE Acoustical Solutions product line.

Too much noise, too many people talking, phones that continually ring—the worst kinds of distractions are the ones we hear more than the ones we see. Acoustical ceiling baffles are a decorative way to visually enhance your office, but also effective at reducing distracting office noises.

The sound absorbing material used to manufacture our acoustical ceiling baffles is extremely effective in reducing a wide range of ambient noises! PET (Polyethylene Terephthalate) is a light, soft, felt-like material made from 100% recycled plastics such as soda or water bottles plastics.

Instead of ending up in landfills or our oceans, the plastics derived from discarded waste are remade into our acoustical ceiling baffles system.

PET material has no harmful emissions, has no scent, nor is it flammable. In fact, the ASTM gives it a fireproof rating of E-84 CLASS A (the safest rating acoustic ceiling baffles can have). It has an NRC (Noise Reduction Coefficient) rating of .75 or about 75% of high decibel noise.

Not only are they durable, but easy to clean and disinfect as well. Perhaps best of all, our entire line of
